Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Biographical Record of Salt Lake City and Vicinity: Containing Biographies of Well Known Citizens of the Past and Present In presenting this work to the citizens of Salt Lake City and vicinity, we do not aim to perpetuate every feature worthy of perpetuation in this notable locality; such an effort would be beyond us in a work of this character, but we have tried to faithfully portray some of the leading characteristics of the people who have made Utah and especially this section of it, famous throughout the known world. Other States and cities are renowned for their great beauty of scenery, unsurpassed climate or wealth of mineral and agricultural productions; Utah has all these and more - she came into existence as the home of the Mormon Church, settled at a time when railroads were unknown to the West; her solitudes undisturbed by any foot save that of the savage red man and the wild beasts who had their lairs in the mountain crags or roamed the valleys and plains at will, far remote from the outposts of civilization. Since then Salt Lake City, as the headquarters of the Church, situated near the great lake whose name she bears, has become the Mecca to which the footsteps of many tourists turn every year. In the early days many sorrows and dissensions came to disturb the peace and harmony that had long prevailed among this people, but that condition has long since passed, and today the stranger may find people of every shade of religious and political belief living in the most pleasant relations, jealous only of the well-being of the State of which all are justly proud,...
