Excerpt: .of this Volume. f Calm Inq. p. 320. that he spent about six weeks in close concealment among his tried adherents; that, as it became no longer safe or practicable for him to remain undiscovered in or near Jerusalem, he took a favourable opportunity of going with a select body of his disciples to a retired summit of mount Olivet; that he there gave to them his last instructions; that at this moment a thunder cloud rolled along the mountain and cut him off from the sight of his companions; that, taking advantage of this circumstance, he descended into the opposite valley: that he lived for some years afterwards in the deepest seclusion, shewing himself only, on very few occasions and to very select persons, particularly to Saul, whom he accosted near Damascus and prevailed upon to become a leader of the sect, which wanted a man of his character, and talents; and that, in fine, where, how, and when this distinguished reformer and philanthropist ended his days, no historical document whatever has come down to us, and probably care was taken that none should exist. If we are not prepared to go to this, and to a still more fearful length; if we recoil from the scheme which would explode all positive revelation, and reduce the Mosaic and the Christian religions to the rank of a benevolent human contrivance; if we think that truth and evidence would be outraged by the adoption of this....
