Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Roof Over Our Heads: Migrant and Seasonal Farmworker Housing in Idaho The Idaho Advisory Committee submits this report about housing for migrant and seasonal farmworkers in Idaho as part of its responsibility to advise the Commission about civil rights problems within the State. After careful study and consideration of several important civil rights issues in the State, the Idaho Advisory Committee identified housing conditions of these workers as one of the problems in need of most attention. While some efforts had been made over the years to address the plight of Idaho farmworkers in search of adequate shelter, the Advisory Committee noted that public and governmental concern had gradually diminished, and that, with the slackening of interest, past gains in solving the problems were being lost. A preliminary investigation revealed numerous inconsistencies and gaps in recent available data concerning migrant and seasonal farmworkers. Thus, the study sought to clearly identify and document the types of housing presently available to farmworkers, to determine whether the housing needs of this work force are being met by existing and planned supply, to ascertain whether migrant and seasonal farmworkers are receiving fair treatment under existing laws, and to better define the state of current statistical information about migrant and seasonal farmworkers. The Advisory Committee found that despite the existence of several agencies charged with ensuring fair and decent housing for migrant and seasonal farmworkers, the overall conditions in the State still are not satisfactory. Most of the governmental units, like most of the public, choose to direct their attention to their other social responsibilities, often permitting farmworker housing concerns to fall between the cracks. The Advisory Committee is...
