Watika Lemon, United States, 2011. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Irene is a new student at the University of Waterloo, in Ontario. She is alone for the first time in her life, in a new and unfamiliar city. She finds it hard to connect with people and engage in the campus life that everyone else seems to be a part of. One day, she decides to reach out by joining a small club; a club devoted to hacking small animals to pieces, the Mole Hunt Club. But they aren't just any animals, they're alien invaders. Small, mole-like creatures that are dropped at random points all over the world. The moles are vicious and relentless, but they're also incredibly weak and frail by Earth standards. To keep the mole population in check, people have started hunting them, but there's no catch-and-release for an animal without a natural habitat on this planet. Some people think mole hunting is noble and heroic, others see it as horrific and cruel; but for Irene and the Mole Hunt Club, it's a lot of fun.
