Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Treatise on the Differential Geometry of Curves and Surfaces This book is a development from courses which I have given in Princeton for a number of years. During this time I have come to feel that more would be accomplished by my students if they had an introductory treatise written in English and otherwise adapted to the use of men beginning their graduate work. Chapter I is devoted to the theory of twisted curves, the method in general being that which is usually followed in discussions of this subject. But in addition I have introduced the idea of moving axes, and have derived the formulas pertaining thereto from the previously obtained Frenet-Serret formulas. In this way the student is made familiar with a method which is similar to that used by Darboux in the first volume of his Lecons, and to that of Cesaro in his Geometria Intrinseca. This method is not only of great advantage in the treatment of certain topics and in the solution of problems, but it is valuable in developing geometrical thinking. The remainder of the book may be divided into three parts. The first, consisting of Chapters II-VI, deals with the geometry of a surface in the neighborhood of a point and the developments therefrom, such as curves and systems of curves defined by differential equations. To a large extent the method is that of Gauss, by which the properties of a surface are derived from the discussion of two quadratic differential forms. However, little or no space is given to the algebraic treatment of differential forms and their invariants. In addition, the method of moving axes, as defined...
