Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Baptist Memorial, and Monthly Record, 1851, Vol. 10: Devoted to the History, Biography, Literature and Statistics of the Denomination Aside from the influences of the Holy Spirit, it must be admitted that the preaching of the gospel stands highest as a divinely appointed instrumentality in the conversion of the world and all plans adopted for the attainment of this sublime object, by making other means more prominent, have been unsuccessful. Still subordinate to this, there are other instrumentalities, without which the preaching of the Word would be much less effectual. The prayers and personal efforts of the church, considered as a body of individuals, are indispensable to the herald of the cross. Those efforts have put in operation that mighty engine of moral power, the Press, by which the word of God and millions of pages of other precious truth have been scattered, like the leaves of the forest, over many of the darkest regions of the earth. Ever since the invention of printing, the press has been the principal instrumentality in establishing the doctrines of the Christian religion, and defending them from the aspersions of infidelity. The rich mines of Theology and Metaphysics - the foundation of all our codes of morals and religion - are laid open by this means of disseminating truth. We may add, that the juridical press performs an important part in advocating the fundamental principles of our religion. Probably there is no other influence in politics or religion, which effects as much as this, in forming and directing the public mind. The religious periodical press is, to say the least, a very important medium for the defense of Christian doctrine. In view...
