Unlike everybody else she knew growing up, she seemed to understand him, enjoy him, more with every reading. It was partly because of this love that she drove from her home in rural Pennsylvania to college at Southern Utah University, home every summer to the Utah Shakespearean Festival. It was partly that, and partly the desire to get as far away as possible. Maddie thought being in Utah would help her forget, that the stark beauty of the scenery and the power of the metaphor would be enough to clear her. They weren't. In her freshman year, she met and, after graduation, married a much older man, Robert Able, the first person Maddie had ever known who understood her love of Shakespeare. At 21, Maddie felt too young to be married. At 23, she felt too young to be divorced. Maddie couldn't blame her divorce on Con Sullier. Maddie found herself falling for this irresistibly distant man while she was still married to Robert. Con was a rock jock at a small town radio station. He was consistently dissatisfied with his job, each consecutive new girlfriend he acquired, and his life in general. When he flirted with Maddie one night at the Shakespearean Festival, he just wanted to shake things up a little. He wanted a thrill. Later, he tried to understand why Maddie pushed him away, why she seemed to love running from everyone more than toward him, why she hid in books and baths and hated to drive anywhere. Maddie thought of leaving Utah, leaving Con and Robert and everyone who knew either of them, but her 5th grade English students kept her there....
