(1-1694) The Horace White Collection of Gems and Medallions. This valuable collection was the gift of the Hon. Andrew D. White, ex-president of Cornell University, and named after his father, the late Hon. Horace White of Syracuse, N. Y. It consists of 1694 copies in plaster, made with great care and artistic skill by G. Eichler of Berlin, --those of gems, from the Baron von Stosch collection in the Berlin Museum, and those of portrait medallions, from the most authentic originals to be found in Europe. The gems, which are all from the antique, are embraced in Section I. (1-450), and only described by classes. Section II. comprises portrait and artistic medallions, mostly mediaeval and modern, and medallion copies of many of the works of Canova, Thorwaldsen, Gibson, and others, and also of works of art, ancient and modern, in the great...
