P. Force, January, 1872 The natural production of this vast field has been, and is still, so great that the labors of the fishermen are sufficiently remunerative for their comfortable support, and to enable the packers or dealers in Oysters to accumulate large fortunes without the necessity of resorting to cultivation. Like the fruits of tropical regions, we have only to wait for the seasons, nature has done everything - only the fruit is to be gathered. This bountiful offering of Nature has, of course, caused the employment of those means for taking the Oyster that will the most surely enable labor to realize the greatest profits, and hence we find upon our waters between six and seven hundred vessels, varying from five to sixty tons burthen, equipped with improved machinery for taking the greatest quantity of Oysters from the beds in the least possible time, regardless...
