By U S Foreign Agricultural Service

Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Foreign Crops and Markets, Vol. 68: May 3, 1954 The livestock situation is more favorable than during the past two years. There were adequate feed supplies in most areas during the rather severe winter Just passed. Feed supplies are now large enough to encourage the fattening of lambs and cattle so as to produce livestock and meat of higher quality for export. Most of the exportable surplus is produced on the larger Governmental farms but it is possible for the output of individual producers to be exported as there are no restrictions on the sale of home grown products in local markets.
