Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Men of 48, Vol. 1: Being a Brief History of the Repeal Association and the Irish Confederation; With Biographical Sketches of the Leading Actors in the Latter Organization, Their Principles, Opinions, and Literary Labors Recent advices from Europe indicate that the struggle for self-government and the right of domestic legislation, which has been suspended in Ireland since 1848, is about to be renewed; and, it is to be hoped, under more favorable auspices than those which ushered in the Repeal movement under O Connell, or the Irish Confederation of Duffy and O Brien. Men, almost entirely new to the mass of the people, seem to be taking the most prominent part in this revived agitation; and a generation, who know little of the virtues and faults, the victories and defeats, which characterized the popular leaders of 1840-50, are their followers. As, in conducting this new crusade against English misgovernment, those champions of national rights will have to go over much of the ground trodden by their predecessors, they will, if they hope for success, be obliged to avoid and overcome the pitfalls and obstacles which entrapped or retarded the men of 43 and 48 in their progress towards independence. Sweet are the uses of adversity; and from the misfortunes of the past may be gleaned many valuable lessons for the guidance of the present generation. It was partially with this purpose in view that I have written this volume; for, though it may not find many readers on the other side of the Atlantic, it will not be without its influence here.
