C. signal mains, one phase being run in each direction from the sub-station. At the end of each block section a step-down transformer, with two secondary coils, delivers current at about 12 volts for the track circuit and 50 and two dwarfs. The machine at Sixty-eighth street will control four switches, 13 signals and six dwarfs. We are indebted to Mr. William S. Twining, Chief Engineer of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co., for the information. Records of Fast Runs. The full page table of fast and unusual runs of steam locomotives published herewith is of the nature of an index to records which have been published in the Railroad Gazette during the past 26 years. It is a condensation and revision of the tables published in the...
