*Excellent electronic book and helpful one. Better then never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. You wont truly feel monotony at whenever you want of your time (that's what catalogues are for relating to when you question me).

In response to a congressional request, GAO reviewed the Navys controls over government-furnished materiel (GFM) provided to its contractors to determine: (1) if the Navy properly implemented the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) and Department of Defense (DOD) policy requirements to justify and document decisions to provide contractors with GFM; (2) the adequacy of Navy controls to validate and approve contractor GFM requisitions; and (3) the adequacy of government oversight of GFM in contractors possession. GAO found that the Navy: (1) routinely provided GFM to its contractors without adequate justification or documentation, even though government policy required contractors to provide their own materiel unless otherwise justified; (2) did not have adequate management and control systems to control GFM provided to contractors; (3) prepared a draft instruction that would improve GFM control procedures for all contracts, but did not establish a target date for implementation; (4) reported weaknesses in contractor controls over GFM in past audits without initiating improvements; (5) had not fully implemented DOD policies or complied with its own policies; (6) did not maintain adequate oversight over its contractors property control and did not ensure that contractors reported potential excess GFM due to personnel shortages; and (7) had not met DOD financial accounting manual requirements. This item ships from La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
