Excerpt: .use, is worked into a paste, with a strong solution of zinc chloride. Chemical combination takes place, and a hard mass is rapidly formed, consisting of oxychloride of zinc, with the earthy ingredients mechanically mixed. These latter serve to impart greater hardness to the filling. Chloride of zinc being extremely irritating, this filling must not be used where the pulp is nearly exposed. Similar cements, of which the main ingredient is phosphate of zinc, and which are both non-irritating and more durable than the oxychloride compounds, are now supplied by manufacturers. In the manufacture of cements, as of amalgams, very great improvements have been brought about in late years; and compounds, perfectly free from irritating properties, and much more durable than earlier products, are now available. The exact composition of these materials is usually secret, although many of them are produced by manufacturers in...
