IRISH CHURCH yet more copious is explained by Professor O Curry in a remarkable passage, which will be cited in a different connection further on. The English Bede bears ungrudging testimony to the high character of the Irish missionaries who had laboured in Northumbria, and to the general belief in the excellence of the Irish schools. The whole solicitude of those teachers, he says, was to serve God, not the world; their one thought was how to train the heart, not how to satisfy the appetite. The special excellence of the Irish schools was the interpretation of Scripture; thus, about 650, Agilbert,...
