Excerpt from The Improvement Era, Vol. 47: November, 1944 A number of years ago I was riding on a train with one of our prominent Catholic bishops - a very fine character -and as we visited and compared notes, he made some expressions with refer ence to the faith of the Latter-day Saints and their high standard of morality, and intimated he would like to know why it was that we were able to maintain such a desirable condition. I confided in him and said: From my mothers knee I have been taught that this body of mine should be kept sacred, as the tabernacle of an immortal spirit. I was taught when I was a child that to be clean in living was most important. In fact, said, upon one occasion my father called me to him when I was just a young man, and he said, my son, I have something I want to say to you. And I said to the bish o I loved my father; I almost wor sfiipped him, and anything that he said to me sank deep into my soul. He said, my son, there are reports of evil in the community; had men and bad wom en are coming in from different parts of the country, one or two at a time. I hope that you will avoid them, but if by any chance any wicked man were to enter into our home and attempt to take the virtue of your mother or your sister, I want you to know from your father that I would expect you to defend that virtue with your life. Then, he said, that is not all. I lay the same...
