The principal part is the continuation of a series of bibliographies of Palaeozoic Crustacea which the General has been publishing since 1890. He was in the midst of the preparation of this work at the time of his death in his eightieth year. He died February 8, 1923, after an illness of only two days. General Vogdes was born in West Point, New York, April 23, 1843. He volunteered as a drummer boy almost at the beginning of the Civil War, gained a second lieutenancy before he was twenty and finished a brevet major For gallantry and meritorious services during the war. After the War he decided to follow...
