Forgotten Books, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****. Excerpt from Annual Report of Intramural Activities: October 1, 1986-September 30, 1987 Within the last year we have synthesized over 300 peptides for use in 50 separate studies. In collaboration with David Margulies s lab (li), anti-peptide sera reactive with the C-terminus of murine major histocompatibility complex class I molecules have been used to investigate alternative rna splicing patterns in various mouse strains and cell types. In collaboration with the laboratories of John Coligan (brb), Ron Schwartz (li) and Ethan Schevach (li) anti-peptide sera hav been used to identify a second T cell receptor for antigen in the mouse. We have followed the ontogeny of the new receptor, investigate the assembly of the recepto complex and identified which subsets of T cells express the receptor. The assembl of the primary T cell receptor complex on human T cells has been studied with anti-peptides sera which are specific for the individual proteins of the complex. In work done in collaboration with Louis Miller s Lab (lpd), synthetic peptides have been used extensively to study the malaria parasite and the immune response i...
