Reviews

This publication is really gripping and exciting. It really is basic but unexpected situations in the 50 % in the book. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Improvement Era, Vol. 19: June, 1916 In their penury and distress, the first act of the Utah pioneers was to sink upon the earth; not in prayer for help, not in lamentation and despair, but in a glad Praise Service and in thanks to the Power that had led them through the waste and over the transfixed billions of the everlasting hills to a place of rest. Then their work began. They were not dreaming of fortunes. The struggle before them was to live and that struggle continued almost without abatement to the end. Often only the barest necessities were vouchsafed; few comforts, no luxuries. In that rough friction their youth was worn away; the men surrendered their ambitions, the women folded fond dreams and a thousand innocent longings in their hearts and drew the silence of self-sacrifice and self-abnegation over them forever. But then a miracle commenced. The desert began to transfer the wrinkles and the sadness from its sombre face to theirs, while in turn it began to absorb the splendor of their youth, and to cause it to be reflected in flowers and fruits and golden grain and vines in which the birds made their nests and filled all the soft air with their songs. Later still, as though touched with pity, the irresponsible mountains began to swing back their adamantine doors revealing the treasures within, where they had remained secreted, waiting until the time should be ripe for the coming of progress and enlightenment. The over-wearied eyes of those Pioneers have mostly all closed; their hands, gnarled by labor, are nearly all folded, but the miracle is still being performed....
