All reporter Sadie Barton wants is to be taken seriously and judged on her own merits, not her stepfather s money. She and her actress sister left Wisconsin to get out from under his controlling thumb and leave behind the malicious whispers that they re no better than their gold-digging mother. But California isn t all sun and fun, and paying the rent while trying to prove herself is harder than she ever imagined. .is more than a kiss. Something about Sadie drew self-made millionaire Zach Robinson-and it wasn t just the amazing kiss they shared as impromptu actors in his company s commercial. He s used to women being interested in his wealth, and Sadie s fierce independence is an enticing breath of fresh air. He s falling fast-until his brother suggests acting runs in her family and Sadie might not be exactly what she seems. * You should ve iced this right away. The first touch of the cold cloth on his sore lip triggered a reflexive jerk away. He hissed air through his teeth before relaxing to let it out slow. She raised her other arm and laid her palm along his stubble covered jaw to hold him still. It seemed strange, her fussing over him like this when he could take care of himself. Warmth spread from her touch and started his heart thudding in his chest. As if someone smacked him upside the head, he realized this was the closest she d gotten to him since they d kissed on the set of the commercial. Voluntarily, anyway. With her concentration fixed on his mouth, Zach let his gaze wander over her long, down-swept lashes, smooth...
