Pan MacMillan, United Kingdom, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Main Market Ed. Language: English . Brand New Book. In the spring of 1939, with the Second World War looming, two determined twenty-four-year-olds, Heather Jenner and Mary Oliver, decided to open a marriage bureau. They found a tiny office on London s Bond Street and set about the delicate business of match-making. Drawing on the bureau s extensive archives, Penrose Halson - who many years later found herself the proprietor of the bureau - tells their story, and those of their clients. We meet a remarkable cross-section of British society in the 1940s: gents with a merry twinkle , potential fifth-columnists, nervous spinsters, isolated farmers seeking a nice quiet affekshunate girl and girls looking exactly like Greta Garbo and Vivien Leigh, all desperately longing to find The One . And thanks to Heather and Mary, they almost always did just that.A riveting glimpse of life and love during and after the war, Marriages Are Made in Bond Street is a heart-warming, touching and thoroughly absorbing account of a world gone by.
