Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from History of the College of New Jersey: From Its Commencement, A. D., 1746, to 1783 At least such is the fatigued testimony of the compiler, who has no more immediate interest in what he affirms, than that of a proud devotion, in common with his fellow-alumni. The cotemporaneous history of this College is only in the technical volumes of its own records, and the breasts of its graduates. And those of them who have not had occasion to notice the generality of this fact, ought to be informed of it. Our Alma Mater is forever guiltless of any discoverable instance of self-praise - and she is equally guiltless of any vehemence of self-commiseration. Whatever cries the severity of her reverses may have extorted, have been without emphasis, in words of exact wisdom, that could have come only from a calm self-possession inspired by the steady consciousness of the intrinsic worthiness and dignity of her own doctrine, and by which she has always been majestic even in her lamentations. From what has been already said - from the most abundant direct evidence from sources to be mentioned, and from the nature of the existing circumstances, it is manifest that, under those circumstances, the College of New Jersey traces its immediate origin to the influence of religion. And it was only an influence so vital and so urgent, that could by any ordinary possibility at that juncture, have educed the result. Doubtless a merely secular and prudential necessity for a corporate literary institution was strongly perceived at that time and had been felt for years previous. Throughout the whole extent of the British Provinces lying between Connecticut...
