Life isn't measured by the number of breaths we take, but by the moments that take your breath away. Each one of us has about 80 years to live out our vision or dreams of what we want in life. Ok, some more, some less, but a good number of years anyway! How do we accomplish this, so at the end, whenever that is, we have no regrets that we should have enjoyed and got involved in life more around us. Living Life In The Moment: is a collection of short stories about living in each moment; sometimes humorist, but always thought provoking as you finish each chapter. When I was younger, friends and I would sit around a campfire at night and just talk. Lying in our sleeping bags looking at the night sky and pondering, imagining, and sharing thoughts about our various life experiences. I have a storytelling writing voice and hopefully, in sharing these stories, you will gain insight into the value of simple daily life. My wife said a normal day is a good day. Those days when everything is crazy and stressful is when her saying is so true. All this means as I share in these stories is to discover and cherish the daily special moments around you. I write in the story titled Bucket List, that life isn't a list of things to do, but a quote by Ralph Waldo Emerson says it so well: Life is a journey, not a destination. I attempt to make my own living style more in the moment of the journey as various life opportunities just happen. I try to find opportunities daily,...
