Following the plan adopted in my previous books, I have included in this volume such legends and stories as seemed to me to throw light upon the habits or the mental peculiarities of the Indian people. The figures recorded in the recently published Report on the Census of the Empire show that more than a half of the entire number of men and women under British rule follow the Hindu religion; that Islam claims another quarter of the inhabitants of the Empire, and that the remainder is made up of Christians (including those of the United Kingdom, Ireland, the Colonies, and India), and of Buddhists, Jains, Jews, etc. Very striking and significant figures indeed are these, and may well awaken many trains of thought and speculation.
