SHORT FICTION: In this fascinating book, Martin Wright has created four beautiful short stories. The originality, simplicity and yet, depth of the stories are remarkable. The reader is thrown into a world in which a festival, a library and a garden of beautiful flowers are one. Funny, pleasant, thought provoking all these stories are. May the reader be the judge. In the THE MAN WHO ATE MY SHOES, we are introduced to a tough guy named Frank, who forcefully takes two loaves of bread away from his neighbour Eddie. But these are not your average breads. On the plastic container of each, it is written: Sun and Happiness Over EveryoneSHOE! Frank, thus, becomes the shoe thief and the shoe eater! Consequently, he develops bad dreams. In the dreams, a bunch of horses run after him and throw him on the ground, and then one of the horses takes Franks shoes off his feet. He experiences pain when that happens. The bad dreams continue, affecting his mood and health until he ends up in therapy. The therapy sessions are hilarious. In...
