Down and up, and up and down, On the hill-top, low in the valley; Turn in the little seed, dry and brown, Turn out the rose and lily. Work, with a plan, or without a plan, And your ends they shall be shaped true; Work, and learn at first hand like a man--The best way to know is to do/ Down and up, till life shall close, Ceasing not your praises; Turn in the wild white winter snows, Turn out the sweet spring daisies. Work, and the sun your work will share, And the rain in its time will fall; For Nature, she worketh everywhere, And the grace of God through all. THE SONGSTRESS.1 The opera was over. Still, however, the tumultuous applause uplifted in honour of the fair debutante who had that evening made her first obeisance before the audience of Berlin, reverberated through the house, and seemed as if it would have no end. A thousand clapping hands, and a corresponding number of roaring voices, were employed in bearing testimony to the merits of Henrietta, and in demanding her momentary re-appearance, to receive the homage of the spectators. At length the curtain again rolled up, and the beauty came forward in all the graceful loveliness whereby she had previously enchanted her auditory. In comparison with the noise which now arose, the former might be regarded almost as the silence of the dead! Every one present, in fact,...
