Excerpt from The Latter-Day Saints Millennial Star, Vol. 79: January 4, 1917 On Saturday night that week Mrs. Pettersson therefore sent Mrs. Carlsson, with her compliments, a basket containing a fat goose, some cookies and apples for the children, and some other articles of more or less value in a household. This was an excellent preliminary to the missionary effort that was to follow. To say that the gift caused wonder in the Carlsson home is to put it down very mildly. They knew nothing about the coming visit, and did not understand the fine diplomacy intended to prepare the way - the fine Italian hand, as it were, of Mrs. Pettersson. The following Sunday Herr Pettersson strutted off with his Bible under his arm on his missionary excursion. It would serve no purpose to give a lengthy report of the conversation that took place. Suffice it to say that Herr Pettersson was cordially received, and that the two gentlemen talked till after midnight. Carlsson bore his testimony to the truth of the Book of Mormon and the divine calling of...

Reviews

The publication is simple in go through preferable to fully grasp. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
