Graduation-that moment of freedom, that glorious phase of life where one ventures beyond the obscurity of adolescence into the world of maturity. For Vickie Jenkins, college was supposed to mean this and more. With Dracula and his vampire brood defeated, there was to be no more hiding, no more monsters lurking behind the veil of shadows. She was to be liberated, free to shed that persona of Van Helsing once and for all. Yeah, well, good luck with that! A unique opportunity brings Vickie to the infamous Naughton University where she realizes strangers are lurking in the moonlight. With its ominous reputation, NU has done its best to conceal its sordid past, a terrible history that is about to lead Vickie into a deep, dark forest of horror. Something has knowingly steered her to the NU campus, something with an intricate purpose that involves Vickie and her ancestry, and that something is not her friend. Could it be the dashing TA, Matt Bullworth? Maybe it's her mysterious new roommate, the witchy Nancy Abernacke? Is it the ever-charming Jacob Slate and his...

Reviews

This is an amazing book that I actually have actually read through. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. You will not truly feel monotony at anytime of the time (that's what catalogs are for concerning should you ask me).
