By Theophil Mitchell Prudden

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Manual of Practical Normal Histology The full course for classes in Normal Histology in this laboratory comprises forty lessons, of from one and a half to two hours each. Students are furnished with microscopes, reagents, and all necessary apparatus, with the exception of razors, slides, cover-glasses, and boxes for the preservation of specimens. So little time is usually at the disposal of medical students for collateral reading, and so necessary is it to occupy as little of the laboratory time as possible in oral descriptions of tissues and methods, that these notes have been prepared with the expectation that students will anticipate each lesson by reading beforehand the brief section devoted to its theme, and thus be ready to commence the practical work of the lesson hour without loss of time. It is not to be expected that epitomized descriptions of structures as elaborate as are many of those with which we have to deal in histology, will be in all cases perfectly clear and intelligible without the aid of figures; but the actual...
