Excerpt: . . . 11 fectionately known as MS-2, a fully authorized District of Columbia public charter school serving grade sixth through eighth. As many of us are aware or who have seen the documentary, Waiting for Superman, when compared against the other 50 states, students in the District of Columbia face enormous chal-lenges. I am here today to speak a little bit about the possibilities that exist when we give schools and school systems greater flexi-bility and what more could be done if we were to go even further. The primary principle underpinning MS-2s foundation is the be-lief that all students should have a truly equal opportunity, not just to any education, but to a top-flight, phenomenal education, re-gardless of their individual life circumstances. Through the flexi-bility provided to us through our charter legislation, we have been able to create a truly unique educational model for our student population that takes into account and addresses these specific...
