In a government like ours, resting for its support entirely upon popular will, it is absolutely essential that the people should be enlightened. Their virtue and intelligence are the only foundations upon which our free institutions can safely repose. It is, therefore, one of the highest obligations which can be imposed upon a free State, to provide for the Education of all its citizens. This duty, although not expressly enjoined upon the Legislature by our Constitution, as in some other states, is nevertheless one, the importance of which they have frequently recognized. So early as the year 1817, the foundation was laid of a fund for the support of Free Schools; this fund, by successive appropriations, was gradually augmented until the year 1829, when it amounted to the sum of two hundred and twenty-two thousand, four hundred and forty-two dollars and seventy-eight cents. At that time an ardent desire was manifested by the people of New-Jersey, that an effort should be made by the Legislature to render the proceeds of this fund available, by the establishment...
