DISLOCATING THE COLOR LINE: IDENTITY, HYBRIDITY, AND SINGULARITY IN AFRICAN-AMERICAN NARRATIVE (MESTIZO SPACES ESPACES METISSES)

Stanford University Press. Paperback. Condition: New. 280 pages. Inquiries into the meaning and force of race in American culture have largely focused on questions of identity and difference. What does it mean to have a racial identity? What constitutes racial difference? Such questions assume the basic principle of racial division, which today seems to be becoming an increasingly bitter and seemingly irreparable chasm between black and white. This book confronts this contemporary problem by shifting the focus of analysis from understanding...
