John Broadbanks Publishing, Eureka, CA, 2009. Trade Paperback. Book Condition: New. This reprint of "The Man Who Saved Gandhi" (1948) has been revised and expanded. A total of 10 Roman numeral pages are followed by 44 pages of text. Revisions include corrections to the cover and text and a new layout. A short biography of "Joseph J. Doke" and an "About the Cover" section have been added to the back. Boreham is a great storyteller, and he doesn't disappoint in "Lover of Life." He relates a very personal episode that illustrates a practical but difficult aspect of guidance. It's one of my favorite stories. From his mentor, J. J. Doke, we learn the value of reading, and even something as challenging as how to share the gospel with someone that is about to die. In this warm and sometimes humorous portrait, Doke emerges as a gentleman, a scholar and a true hero. I treasure the comments I received by email from a long-time family friend. His message was titled "JJD," the name by which Joseph John Doke was affectionately known. "I'm really glad you sent me the book. I read it cover to cover this morning in the quiet of our garden and put it down feeling the sense of tranquility that emanated from that man. He dedicated his life to bringing people together in matters large and small. His own lifestyle led him to become a revered teacher and master mediator. What I liked so much about the book is that it gets its points across by examples rather than preaching. Each chapter leaves its message. What a remarkable man! Our White House badly needs a person like him to mediate our positions in world affairs."
