

Merdeka Rising: Part Two of Black Sun, Red Moon: A Novel of Java (Paperback)

By Rory Marron

Seventh Citadel, United Kingdom, 2013. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Drama and Tragedy in the Indonesian Revolution. The pace zips along. -- Army Rumour Service A good, realistic read of an incident overlooked and based on actual events. Well worth reading! -- Stuart Guild (27th Field Regiment Royal Artillery, Burma 1944-5 As Java erupts in violent revolution against Dutch colonial rule, thousands of Europeans interned by the Japanese become hostages to fortune. Their only hope is a tiny force of peacekeepers--British, Indian, Gurkha and surrendered Japanese--who stand against the murderous hordes. New loyalties are tested while old scores are settled in blood amidst massed, spine-chilling roars of Merdeka! (Freedom!). An ambitious, unconventional, compelling saga of men at war, captivity, forced prostitution, murder, political dirty tricks and mob terror in Japanese-occupied and revolutionary Indonesia. Rory Marron's Black Sun, Red Moon and its finale, Merdeka Rising gives us an almost tangible glimpse of the chaos that was Java in 1945-46. His writing, infused with imaginative speculation, is sweeping, poignant, passionate and unflinching. (Publishers Catalogue.) Japan's sudden surrender ends the Second World War but triggers the Indonesian declaration of independence from...
