He looks around, but there s nothing out here: nothing but the bottomless black universe on their left, the Earth suspended in glorious Technicolor to their right. Trapped in the vast void of space, Carys and Max have only ninety minutes of oxygen left to live. None of this was supposed to happen. After a freak accident, Carys and Max are left adrift in space with nothing to hold onto but each other. As they fall, they can t help but look back at the world they left behind. A world whose rules they couldn t submit to, a place where they never really belonged; a home they re determined to get back to because they ve come too far to lose each other now. While their air ticks dangerously low, one is offered the chance of salvation--but who will take it? In this startling and evocative novel harkening to both One Day and Gravity, Hold Back the Stars shows how the choices we make can change the fate of everyone around us.
