The numbers in the third column are obtained by doubling those in a table of 200 cases, collected from those of M. Lebert and Mr. Birkett, as well as from my own. production of cancer; but they do not prove that the defect of that process has more influence than others of the coincident events. I think we may most safely hold that the aptness of this time of life for the development of hard cancer is chiefly due to the general failure of the process of maintenance by nutrition, which usually has at this time its beginning, and of which the most obvious natural signs are in the diminution of the powers of the reproductive organs. It is in favour of this view, rather...
