Excerpt from The School of Mechanic Arts: July, 1897 Primarily, the School of Mechanic Arts is intended for those young men Who expect to enter some one of the mechanical trades, and Who desire a scientific basis for this later work, although it is hoped that in many casethe stimulus given by the school Will be such that a colle giate course in one of the engineering groups Will be pur sued. Nowhere is there greater difficulty in learning a trade than in the West, Where few manufacturing indus tries are as yet developed. Even if this were not true, the school would offer the surest means of. Attaining future success. For it will give a knowledge of those things Which are intimately connected With mechanical work, but Which cannot be learned in the shop. The school is in no sense a. Trade school, although the principles of some of the more important mechanical trades are taught. The student obtains a better concep tion of the relative importance of the different mechani cal Operations, and he is enabled to determine what particular branch of mechanical work he can most successfully pursue.
