

Performance of Financial Institutions: Efficiency, Innovation, Regulation

By Patrick T. Harker, Stavros A. Zenios

Cambridge University Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Performance of Financial Institutions: Efficiency, Innovation, Regulation, Patrick T. Harker, Stavros A. Zenios, The efficient operation of financial intermediaries - banks, insurance and pension fund firms, government agencies - is instrumental for the efficient functioning of the financial system and the fuelling of the economies of the twenty-first century. But what drives the performance of these institutions in today's global environment? The interdisciplinary and international perspective of this volume offers a deep understanding of the drivers of performance in financial institutions. World-renowned scholars from economics, finance, operations management and marketing, and leading industry professionals, bring their expertise to bear. Among their concerns are: the definition and measurement of the efficiency of such institutions; benchmarks of efficiency; identification of performance drivers and measurement of their effects; the impact of financial innovation and information technologies on performance; the effects of process design, human resource management policies and regulations on efficiency; and interrelationships between risk management and operational efficiency.

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE
[4.67 MB]

Reviews

This publication is definitely not effortless to get going on reading through but really exciting to read through. it was actually writtern really properly and beneficial. I am just very easily could get a delight of reading through a created publication.

-- Gino Jerde Jr.

This kind of publication is every little thing and taught me to searching in advance plus more. I have got study and i am confident that i am going to going to go through yet again again down the road. I am just effortlessly could get a delight of reading a written pdf.

-- Mrs. Bonita Kuphal