It was, that Jessy should be punctual to the school-hours, and attend regularly every day. When Mrs. Al lan promised over and over again to observe this rule, she knew very well that she did not mean to keep her word; for, two days in the week, she was obliged to go to the garden where she got her vegetables, and on those days Jessy had to watch the stand; but she just thought within herself, that she had better not tell the truth, lest it might be a di?iculty in the way of getting Jessy admitted, and that she could easily teach her child to invent excuses, and tell many lies every week to account for her absence. When the ladies spoke also of the Sabbath school, and the importance of being early instructed in religion, Mrs. Allan sighed, and turned up her eyes, and said.
