Diploma Thesis from the year 2003 in the subject Hotel Industry Catering, grade: 1, 5, Ecole htelire de Lausanne, 107 entries in the bibliography, language: English, comment: 1, 5 (dt. Notensystem) entspricht in der Schweiz der Note 5, 5, abstract: This study summarises relevant literature on traditional and online distribution channels and gives an insight in the management of hotels room reservation processing as well as potential consequences of intrinsic service failures. Since it was assumed that differences in distribution channel treatment do exist in hotels, investigation was focused on telephone and e-mail reservation channels as the ones with the strongest utilization rates. Therefore, hypotheses were formulated to undertake research on both channels in comparison to room reservation transformation rates, frequency of focal points of service failures and the potential influence of category, size and location as specific hotel characteristics. In order to carry out the investigation, an online questionnaire was established in co-operation with university and industry room reservation professionals. The actual study focused on the Austrian three to five star hotel segments since these categories were expected to provide all relevant investigated communication channels. The...
