Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****. Excerpt from Normal Herald, Vol. 21 Of the general situation we shall say little. After the appearance of the last issue of the Herald, we were greeted with the question: Who wrote that good article in the Herald? I know you did not write it. We ask attention to the article, First impressions of the I. S. N. S. ; the reader will there find a true view of the school. The great generals of recent times have been men with years, many years, of experience to their credit. Our girls have in their preceptress not only a general, but a diplomat who has marshalled the forces in many a war and dictated the terms of peace. The casual observer of a powerful machine is quite unable to realize the stress put on the parts. Only two beings can realize them, the trained engineer and the piece which bears the stress. In such a school as ours, the casual visitor does not see the forces exerted, only the pedagogical expert and the teacher under the pressure have a real knowledge of the stress. The machine works smoothly. The earnest work done by the Conservatory of Music is sufficiently shown by the musical treats presented by the pupils and the members of the Faculty. Years ago a problem much discussed was: What shall we do with our boys? The boys at this Normal are looked after by Mr. Jack and made to tread the straight and narrow path. We are glad to have the opportunity of printing the peace article from the pen of one of our Faculty; few subjects are more timely and few will cause more acrimonious discussion, in the...
