She and her husband Ken have been all about the food for a long time. Along the way, she started cooking for their black labrador retriever Shelby. Cheryl believes our pets are part of the family, and it is natural for you to want what is best for your family. Particularly with her dog Shelby, Cheryl began researching foods, spices and supplements and learned recommended, safe and health-supportive choices for our canine family members. Then, with her chef training and love of food, along with bursts of inspiration, she began creating recipes and testing these recipes on her dogs and friends dogs. Cheryl assures, -Only the recipes that were approved and eaten with gusto made it into the cookbook.-.
