Not illustrated. 1900 Excerpt: .the following LOCAL NOTES ON VANISHING WILD FLOWERS, The State of Connecticut has a law designed to protect its native flora. In the city of Boston there is a Society for the Protection of Native Plants, and lately the New York Botanical Garden has been presented with a fund, the interest of which is to be used for the same admirable purpose. The preservation of living plants in their native haunts has naturally received much attention in botanical journals, and the daily press has also done its part in serving notice upon the public, that they who ruthlessly pluck, dig up or burn the wild plants, are doing the common February 8th, 1902. ity an injury. Of course in every locality the conditions are somewhat different. The plants that are in danger of extermination in one place may be abundant in another. For this reason Mrs. N. L....
