Reviews

This pdf may be really worth a read, and superior to other. It generally does not price too much. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

DOES IT PAY?: AND THE PAGE MAN ASKED THE QUESTION THAT ENTERS INTO EVERY BUSINESS TRANSACTION IN THESE INTENSELY PRACTICAL DAYS. - J

Village Crier. Paperback. Condition: New. 712 pages. Dimensions: 11.0in. x 8.3in. x 1.7in. Does It Pay . . . and the Page man asked the question that enters into every business transaction in these intensely practical days. - JKG Galbraith fans will delight in reading some of the earliest published articles by bestselling author John Kenneth Galbraith. This book is a collection of the majority of interviews John Kenneth Galbraith wrote while he was the cub reporter for the St. Thomas Times-Journal, 1925-1932. The interviews read like conversations from the past. Read only the articles of interest to you one at a time, or read cover to cover to get a feel for the times - the frustration of farmers with ever changing standards and regulations or the success and pride of the Topnotchers that shines through loud and clear. A surname index has been included so that readers may find their kin and hear the voices of their grandfathers or great uncles. These men speak plainly about conditions on southwestern Ontario farms during a time of great change. Change was not always embraced with enthusiasm in the rural community. Pasteurization and new health legislations had come into force, along with the Clean Seed Act, the gasoline engine, electricity and refrigeration, just to name a few. All of these followed the largest conflict in the world - the First World War. Along with all these changes came the crash of 29, prohibition, crop failures, the Great Depression and the prelude to World War II. How did they cope? Throughout these articles, note how some of the problems faced some eighty years ago are still faced by farmers today. So much changes; yet so much stays the same. Can we learn and improve on our past mistakes Can we look at mistakes...
