Createspace, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .The History of a Different DNA is a quite unlikely story in several regards. For openers, in this book DNA has nothing to do with the well-known deoxyribonucleic acid. DNA is Dale N. Amend, and this is his story. The dramatic highlight of his life story is unlikely. It occurs in the middle of the story. He becomes an Air Force pilot flying a small unarmed airplane just over the tree tops at 75 knots controlling air strikes on enemy targets in Vietnam. Not what he had planned. After 423 combat missions in 773 hours of combat flying time in one year, he comes home in one piece with the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Bronze Star Medal, 19 Air Medals and other military decorations. He declines the title of hero. Through unlikely developments in the midst of his combat flying assignment, he becomes associated with American Christian missionaries. With them, he plays tennis sings in military services, worships with Jarai and Ralay Montagnard natives, eats at the missionaries table and carries their daughter, (like his own two year old 10,000 miles away) who chooses Uncle to take her to her bed. He hauls excess military food for them in his little airplane and helps with the establishment of their second leprosy clinic. Dale s earlier book, A Duck Looking for Hunters, tells the exciting dramatic story of his time in Vietnam. Back in the United States, he teaches at the US Air Force Academy and works with cadets in the DeMolay Club. As the Officer Representative of the Academy pistol team, he flies the national champion team to matches around the nation. Much earlier in life, Dale becomes...
