Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from The Indian Chief, Journeycake The following brief narrative is sent forth, not as a contribution to the literature of the Indian problem, but as a tribute to the life and character of the Christian chieftain whose memory it seeks to perpetuate. When the author first entered the home of Mr. Journeycake to become acting pastor of the Delaware Church, and made a study of the situation, it was apparent at a glance that if he would do his people good he must stand in friendly relations with the senior pastor. By divine favor our intercourse at once, without any compromise of ministerial prerogative, became most intimate, fraternal, and confidential. Our views were largely akin, and we had a common purpose. Mr. Journeycake was a man of uncommon deliberateness, especially in conversation. You would ask him a question, and he would be so long before replying that you would be led to think he had given it no attention. This peculiarity was quickly learned, and also that it paid to wait. After a period of some months, the secretary of the American Baptist Home Mission Society sought to procure a biographical sketch of Father Journeycake for a special Indian number of the Home Mission Monthly.
