Ophthalmology Coding Tip

ICD-10-CM codes for eye disorders and eye surgery are organized by the location of the eye, left or right, as follows: 1. In the external eye (eyeball and associated structures), eye disorders are coded by the left and right eye code. If the site is not specified, assign the code for the unspecified eye. When conditions of the cornea are further differentiated as affecting the right eye, left eye, right eye only, or an eye without side.

The location of the eye (left/right) number indicates an additional sign is needed. For example:
