Excerpt from The Livingston Manor: Address Written for the New York Branch of the Order of Colonial Lords of Manors in America Before beginning my address let me explain that I have done everything possible to obtain access to old papers, letters, owned by members Of the family, which might throw new light upon the Livingston Manor, but in the majority Of cases such papers were not available. Hence I am compelled to fall back almost entirely upon material already well known, and shall merely sketch to you a concise account Of the creation and duration Of the Manor Of Livingston, introducing such items Of interest as I could Obtain to enlighten us somewhat as to the lives of the owners of one of those vast estates, which were decreed by Royal authority to be Lordships and Manors. It is well known that the men Of greatest in?uence in the early days Of our Colonial history were from the aristocratic class, numbered among which were the Livingstons. Their names constantly occurred in the early historical records Of Scotland. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
