Reviews

The publication is straightforward in study better to fully grasp. It is definitely simplistic but excitement inside the 50 percent of your publication. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

Not illustrated. 1915 Excerpt: . . . the strike is nearly ready to close and placed on the bench under the proofstick, not over two inches below it. From the stick, with the handle of a small spoon, blobs of fullmass as large as the end of the finger are pushed from the slot and slid into the basin. So long as they float, they are lifted out with the spoon, and thrown away. When one of them just barely remains under the surface, the strike is finished and ready to drop. The remaining solution is then immediately returned to the stoppered bottle for future use. A strike thus finished may be depended upon j technically and financially. The developments to be at the required density, and the results these warlike times among statesmen in may be duplicated as often as desired. America and warriors in Europe cry aloud for Precautions. The Question of Manufacturing Raw Sugars. (By Geo. lf. Xewhall.) Like the rather unexpected revival in reli-1 upon favorably by many managers on the lsgious circles through the advent of Billy Sun-1 lands. The saving in freight and the gain in day, the arrival of iufluentia1 preachers of free j prices received for the sugar soon pays for the trade in sugar has stirred up the producers of cost of the dryer. And he gives figures t sugar to greater efforts to improve and excel, prove this. For further information on this In an issue of the Planter, in February, l...
