Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Montana Wild Life, Vol. 2: The Official Publication of the State Fish and Game Commission; December, 1929 Because of their very abundance they have followed the buffalo and big game, and only by the enactment of wise laws and their stringent enforcement can we hope to even partially bring them back. My experience with game has been varied and peculiar. During 56 years, a considerable portion of which was spent on the plains and in the mountains from southern Texas to Montana, and outside the boundaries of civilization, or habitation, I have killed every kind of big game excepting a buffalo and a mountain lion. During the latter 70 s I was all over the buffalo country, crossing numerous fresh trails of big bands, but never having the time to hunt them, being otherwise engaged, so never sighted or shot at one. As to mountain lions, I have hunted them but never had more than a fleeting glimpse of one. For two winters on several occasions I trailed one that had a track like an African lion, but could...
